WESTERN UNION FIRE.

The New York Office
Nearly Destroyed.

Brave New York Firemen

Save Seven Lives at Great Personal Risk.

The Associated Press Lose their Instruments.

Western Union Office Burned.

New York, July 18.—The Western Union Telegraph building caught fire at 7 o'clock this morning. The distributing room on the fifth floor, the operating room on the floor above, and the Associated Press rooms and restaurant on the ninth floor were completely destroyed. Seven lives were miraculously saved.

A few minutes before 7 o'clock the operators began to arrive to go to work,
and about fifty men and young women had reached the operating room. A messenger boy saw a puff of smoke
under a table in the distributing room
on the floor below the operating room.
He scarcely had time to investigate the cause when the wooden table was in flames and the fire was spreading with lightning rapidity. He rushed upstairs to notify the arrivals that the building was on fire. They were compelled to go through the distributing room to get down stairs, and a panic was the result. Women screamed, and men rushed pell-mell down the stairs to escape the flames, which in less than two minutes spread through almost the entire distributing room, burning up wires, instruments and tables as if they were so much tinder. The entire room, when the panic-stricken crowd passed through it, was filled with a dense, stifling smoke, and they fell over each other in their wild efforts to escape.

By this time the flames had reached the ceiling of the distributing room, and were eating their way through to the operating room, where the instruments that connect with the wires that distribute messages throughout the country are located.

In less time than it takes to tell it,
this entire floor was ablaze, and the flames were extending to the floor
above, on which the Western Union Company's restaurant was located. Here were four men and three women
cooks and waiters in the restaurant,
who had been forgotten in the excitement.

All exit had by this time been cut off whereby these persons could escape,
and they were not aware of their peril
until the smoke rushed up the stairway leading from the operating room in volumes. One of the men, finding no possible means of escape downward,
rushed for the scuttle-hole in the roof.
The trap-door was pushed off and the prisoners climbed to the roof.

The flames were shooting out of the front windows and volumes of smoke puffed heavenward, when the great crowd in the streets saw the men and women rush out on the roof. A cry of horror went up, for it did not seem possible they could be rescued.

The women screamed and wrung
their hands, and the men yelled:
"For God's sake, do something to save us!"

A long ladder was placed against the rear of the burning building, but it did not reach within fifty feet of the roof.
Undaunted, however, two firemen
scaled the ladder and threw a rope up.
It was caught and tied by one of the brave girls, and the firemen pulled themselves up, hand over hand, until they reached the top, from where,

amid the cheers of the thousands below,
they let the seven down to places of safety. It was accomplished just in time, for the flames immediately burst up through the cornice, and soon enveloped the roof.

All above the sixth floor is destroyed,
and the fifth and other floors below are soaked with water. The battery and storage rooms occupied the sixth floor,
the operating room the seventh and the Associated Press and a part of the bookkeeping department the eighth.
On the ninth were Western Union files. The Associated Press lost their instruments, typewriters, furniture and all its books, papers and records dating from 1885, and their valuable reference library. Loss irreparable.

All of the material for a history of the growth of the press in America was contained in the letter books and files which were destroyed, and can never be replaced. The money value is estimated at $15,000. No insurance.

Hon. William Henry Smith, General Manager, is personally a heavy loser by the destruction of race books and papers, many of which cannot be duplicated. Among these were hundreds of race pamphlets collected in Europe, which Smith supposed secure in a fire-proof building. Extensive correspondence of great value was also consumed.

A survey has been made of the upper portions, and it was found that the cables and pneumatic tubes were intact and will be available for use.

General Eckert, Vice President of the Western Union, is of the opinion that the loss of that company will not exceed $100,000. He also believes they will be able to employ a considerable force in the main hallway in a day or two. Already new switch boards are on the way from Philadelphia. The Associated Press will use the executive room on the fifth floor and such other rooms as can be had in the neighborhood. The old Baltimore and Ohio Telegraph Company's building at 414 Broadway will be temporarily used for the quarters of the Western Union.

A large force of firemen were put to work and a hundred wires will be ready for use to-morrow.

The entire upper part of the building was gutted, and every instrument and wire rendered useless. Fully 700 girls and men are employed on the two floors.

Located in the building are the private offices of Jay Gould, Sidney Dillon, Dr. Norvin Green and others who are famous through the length and breadth of the land.

It is estimated the loss to the building and fixtures is $250,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by an electric light wire.

PRICE'S LOSS

At Ophir by the Late Reservoir
Accident.

Wm. E. Price came down from Ophir yesterday and returned to-day.
He says he has any amount of pulverized sand at his disposal as a result of the breaking of his dam. His garden patch and lawn are covered with about three feet of the sediment and his cellar, where he had lately stored $200 worth of provisions, is full. There is still considerable water coming down the canyon. He does not expect to rebuild the dam very soon, as the disaster has caused him considerable loss, coupled with the expense of reconstruction, would give the enterprise larger proportions than the present state of affairs would permit.

Delayed Trains.

At 1:30 this afternoon the first train from the west rolled in, announcing that the railroad 5-hour blockade was broken. From a general lady passenger on the delayed train, it was learned that the cause of the wreck was a broken wheel on the last east-bound freight, causing a wreckage this side of Blue Canyon. The railroad officials, as usual, were dumb as flies. The second east-bound arrived about an hour late.

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The Committee on Rules reported a resolution providing that the House shall immediately proceed to the consideration of the original package bill, the previous question to be considered ordered on Monday after the reading of the journal;
that the House shall then consider the bankruptcy bill, the previous
question to be considered ordered on Wednesday after reading the journal.
Breckinridge of Kentucky raised the question of consideration, but the House decided, yeas 115, nays 55, to consider the resolution. One hundred and twenty-four members were announced as paired.

The House Committee on Elections
has decided two more contested cases
in favor of the Republican contestants.

SENATE.

After unimportant business the consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill was resumed, the pending question being on an amendment repealing the irrigation provision in a like bill of October 1888, excepting that reservoir and canal sites heretofore located or selected shall remain segregated from entry or settlement.
Reagan continued his argument,
begun yesterday, against the amendment and in favor of the irrigation scheme initiated by the act of 1888.

Notes to His Uncle.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 18.—"They can talk about my uncle as a visionary and mild lunatic all they please, but the day will come, and not so far off either,
when he will be recognized as a thoroughly sensible though bold engineer."
So said William Henry Gilpin of Pueblo, Col., at the Hoffman House.
Gilpin has been for the last two years
with his uncle, William Gilpin, ex-Governor of Colorado, on a tour of reconnaissance on the Northern Pacific coast.

William Gilpin believes there is no serious obstacle in the way of building a railroad which shall join the United States and Russia by way of Siberia, Behring Strait, Alaska and British America. The only apparent difficulty is in crossing Behring Strait, but this difficulty is only apparent.
The strait is only 40 miles wide, and in the middle lies an island about big enough to hold New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City combined. The water is nowhere more than 40 feet deep,
and there will be no trouble in erecting piers on the hard bottom.

A Strong Combination.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 18.—The Tribune
says the Northern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Companies are to join hands at Chicago and form a continuing line from ocean to ocean.
The purchase of 380 acres of land in Cicero marks the junction point.
There will be erected the car-shops of the Northern Pacific Railroad, and through that property will be run the new suburban railway. The purchase was made yesterday and the consideration was $570,000. The traffic alliance between the Baltimore & Ohio and the Northern Pacific contemplates a transcontinental line, and freight will be run through without breaking trains and without bringing the cars into this city. The purchase of real estate made yesterday will be used for car shops, for the Northern Pacific Co.
will expend $250,000 in erecting shops,
employing 1,500 men, and it is designed to turn out every class of freight and passenger cars.

A North and South Road.

By Associated Press.

New York, July 18.—The Herald says that there has been perfected in the offices of Seligman & Co an arrangement which gives California a finely equipped, standard gauge railway, which, in the present consolidated form, runs from San Francisco 160 miles north, through three of the most productive counties of the State.
It will avoid falling into the hands of either of the great Pacific lines. Important negotiations concerning the line have been in progress for months, the late James M. Donahue having been engaged on the enterprise.

Naptha shipped as Oil.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 18.—At the Coroner's inquest in the matter of the explosion
on the steamer Tiego to-day the city oil inspector testified that he had several times found naphtha on board vessels in this harbor, shipped by the Genessee Oil Co. of Buffalo and notified the consignees of the fact, but received no reply. Agent Morford of the Union Steamboat Co. said the company has been deceived by the Gen-essee Co., naphtha having been shipped as oil. The coroner announced that the agent here of the Genessee Co. could not be found.

is to be put out of commission. The gregational Church, reported to the so broke open a box known as the "Ren-

The Race Problem.

Whatever solution shall be made of the so-called "race problem," it is evident that neither whites nor blacks in the South desire or would accept the plan of assisted emigration to Africa, or elsewhere, suggested by Senator Butler of South Carolina. The black people in the South are unambitious and unaggressive, contented with small pay, seldom without employment or the opportunity of employment, cheerful, peaceful and happy. They labor as industriously and as efficiently as when they were slaves, they obtain something more of the comforts and pleasures of life for their labor, and yet the white people make a larger profit from their labor than during the days of slavery. Indeed, the white South has not only repaired all the ravages and losses of war, but is quietly getting rich off the labor of the black South. Under slavery the industry of the South was mostly agricultural, now it is diversified. There are no strikes, no lock-outs, no dissatisfaction, no demand for higher wages, no conflicts, between labor and capital. The cheapest, the most abundant, the most docile, and on the whole the most faithful and reliable unskilled labor in the country is in the South, and for the culture of cotton, sugar, rice, tobacco and grain, and for road-building, coal-mining and pig-iron manufacture, it is said to be equal to white labor. It will doubtless be found in time equally available, at a higher rate of wages probably, for the simpler trades, and skilled white workmen are not—at present—disadvantaged by its existence, but, on the contrary, have, because of its existence, larger opportunities of employment.

There is nothing to hinder an enormous material development in the South during the next two or three decades, for that section has every natural resource possessed in the North, a more genial climate and with an abundant supply of cheap labor. If the black man as a chattel was worth three thousand millions of dollars to the slaveholder before the war, he is worth double that sum to the employers of labor now. They procure his services in all the old industries and in many new ones, they are relieved from the cost of guarding or watching him, they are not compelled to support him when idle or sick or old; the fear of being discharged is a more potent stimulus to industry than was the whip, and the cost of his labor is little, if any greater than was the ante-bellum cost for food, medicine, life insurance, provision for old age and interest on value. There is no place in the United States to-day where there are better chances for investment and the accumulation of wealth than in the Gulf States.

The Southern press is greatly to blame for keeping alive the fiction of "Northern" or "sectional" hatred. Not one man in a hundred in the North has the slightest feeling of antipathy to the South, and not one in fifty takes any interest in what they call their "race problem." The ante-bellum war prejudices and feelings are ten times as vivid in the South as in the North. Witness the absolute indifference with which the mortuary honors and eulogies of Jefferson Davis and the rabid speeches made at the unveiling of Lee's statue were regarded in the North. Twenty years ago, even ten years ago, any such general and enthusiastic expressions of devotion and loyalty to the lost cause would have evoked a storm of rejoinder at the North, but at this day they did not even provoke comment.

The North is satisfied that another rebellion is impossible; that restoration of slavery is impossible; that payment, either locally or nationally, of Confederate indebtedness is impossible; and that the so-called race problem will somehow take care of itself, and if the South finds consolation in eulogizing either the men or the motives of a lost cause, whose losing was to her the greatest of gain, nobody will seek to prevent her or condemn her for so doing; only it must be disagreeable to the Northern men whose capital, and energies and good citizenship she invites and receives to read the local newspaper distributes against a supposition of "Northern hatred," which is as merely suppositions and and as non-existent as the maelstrom. Much interest will attach to the course of the pending Constitutional Convention of Mississippi. If its members shall adopt, as has been suggested, a voting qualification based upon education and ownership of property, nobody can question the fairness of their action, and a Government based upon the rule of the intelligent and thrifty ought to produce the best results there, or anywhere.

On the whole, we are sure that the "race troubles" of the Southern people are more fancied than real, and we are very sure that there is nothing unreal about their wonderful resources, their marvelous growth, and their prosperous and magnificent future.

QUEST.—According to the census returns Ormsby county has a population of 4,881, while Elko has 4,281 and Eureka 4,270, and yet Eureka is slower in and Elko is slower in the state convention, and Ormsby is the only one that is slow. (Cassius Tribune)

The Republican vote at the last election formed the basis of representation in the State Convention—one delegate for every fifty Republican votes, and one for every fraction over fifty of twenty-five or more. Ormsby cast at the last election 570 Republican votes, and has 11 delegates. Elko cast 790 Republican votes, and has 16 delegates. Eureka cast 614 Republican votes, and should have been allotted 12 delegates, but seems to have secured 14, or two more than she was entitled to. We cannot even conjecture how this happened; probably because, while the other Republicans are "all wool and a yard wide," the Eureka Republicans measure 38 inches.

If (as was, of course, not practicable) the census returns instead of the last vote had been used as a basis of representation, the apportionment of the State, with a Convention of 144 members, would not have been materially changed, except that Storey would have lost, while Ormsby and Washoe counties would have gained.

SEVERAL Nevada papers, both Republican and Democratic, seem greatly exercised over the possible candidacy for some prominent office of Francis G. Newlands. They seem to think the publication of Mr. Newlands' speeches on the material interests of Nevada in a couple of papers which have something more than a local circulation is all the evidence needed that he has designs on this sagebrush commonwealth.

F. F. MOODY: We sell twice as much of Hood's Sarsaparilla as of any other similar.
C. A. SWAN: Hood's is the most popular sarsaparilla of the day.
THIRTY OTHER druggists speak similarly. This popularity at home, where Hood's Sarsaparilla and its proprietors have been known for many years, could not continue if the medicine did not possess merit. And these facts should certainly convince people in other sections of the country that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a good, reliable medicine.

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and in its effects. Possessing these qualities Syrup of Egs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

An Old Soldier's story.

In the late war I was a soldier in the First Maryland Volunteers, Company G. During my term of service I contracted chronic diarrhoea, since then I have used a great amount of medicine, but when I found any that would give me relief, they were either too strong for my stomach, until Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was brought to my notice. I used it and will say it is the only remedy that gave me permanent relief and no bad results follow. I take pleasure in recommending this preparation to all of my old comrades, who, while giving their services to their country, contracted this dreadful disease as I did, from eating unwholesome and uncooked food. Yours truly, A. E. Bonding, Halsey, Ore. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

A Michigan Central Railroad Employee Wins His Case After Seven Years' Contest.

While employed as agent of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, at Augusta, Mich., his kidneys became diseased, and from an impoverished and impure state of the blood, my general health was entirely undermined. I consulted the leading physicians of this city and Ann Arbor, and all pronounced my case Bright's disease, and in October last I began taking Hibbard's Rheumatic Syrup, and on today a well man I am. I should like to see a sufferer suffering humanly any good that I can, and I wish to say that I think it is the blood, kidney and liver medicine in the world.

A woman of Paper saves Her Life. It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle. It helped her, she bought a large bottle, it helped her more, bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For further particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, druggist, 30 Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at W. F. Fininger's drug store.

Unpleasantness Avoided. Several months ago, Mr. Henry Plummer of Clements, Cal., who is subject to cramps, was taken with a severe attack. He had been accustomed to get relief by doing with morphine, but the disagreeable effect that followed would make him miserable for hours after the cramp had been relieved. I persuaded him to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He was much pleased with its effect as it was almost instantaneous, and no disagreeable after effects accompanied its use.

A MAN TRAP.

Which Caught a Victim the First Night.

The railroad scales across the thoroughfare on Virginia street are being repaired, and yesterday the workmen removed the top platform, leaving the skeleton depths of timbers exposed, and when darkness set in, neglected to provide any safeguards for passers-by in the way of a railroad or warning light. At 11 o'clock, as a GAZETTE man was prowling around town in hungry search for scrap items, loud cries came from the neighborhood of the scales, and on inquiry, a partially intoxicated individual was found firmly fastened to one of the open cross beams of the scale. He had been on his way to the Tremont Hotel, and in the darkness, tumbled into the open chasm. Help was summoned, and by the aid of three men the beleaguered individual, who was a man weighing over 200 pounds, was rescued from his precarious position. The place was as dark as the night, and it was only good fortune that prevented a number of pedestrians from meeting with an accident and breaking a leg, arm or neck. At midnight a red light had been displayed at one end of the open trap, which only served to render the darkness more dismal. A suit for damages is talked of, as the man who met with the mischief received contusions on the face as big as pigeons' eggs and complains of a wounded leg, which on first examination was thought to be broken.

TO BE TESTED.

The Recent Law Relating to "Sheep Travel."

The first civil procedure over the "sheep travel" law passed by the last Legislature occurred yesterday. Newt Evans brought claim against a sheepowner who last spring had driven his sheep over Mr. Evans' unenclosed alfalfa ranch, just north of Reno. Day before yesterday Mr. Evans accompanied by Constable Upson went over the field, and Mr. Evans claimed damages to the amount of $50. Three citizens were chosen arbitrators, and while agreeing to Mr. Evans' claim under the letter of the law, allowed him a lesser sum of damages. This is the second incident of the traverse law about animals requiring them to be driven on the public highway and only driven over private lands with the consent of the owner. The first incident resulted in the shooting by a rancher near Vista, who took a shot at the unfortunate herder and seriously wounded him. The feeling was so strong against him that he obtained a change of venue and was tried in Virginia.

BOARD OF PARDONS.

The Board Still in Session At Carson.

Last evening's Carson Tribune says: James Harrington, who killed John Sullivan in Virginia in 1874, and was sentenced for twenty years, was pardoned yesterday afternoon. The testimony of two medical experts to the effect that Harrington would die if kept in prison another year induced the Board to grant the pardon.

The following applications were acted on today:

On the application of Frank Butler, the vote stood two to two.

The applications of Annie Peterson and Charles Angelo were denied.

Henry McOrnie, sent from White Pine county June 11, 1889, for selling whisky to Indians, and sentenced to seven months' imprisonment and $500 fine, was ordered discharged and the balance of the fine remitted.

The vote on the application of Daniel Methaney stood two to two.

The applications of A. J. Karbon and Carmin Penia were denied.

Williams, duly installed the following officers of Reno Lodge, No. 19, I. O. O. F.: Benton Pack, J. E. Bradshaw, N. G.; W. James, N. G.; H. B. Rule, R. S.; G. O. McNew, P. S.; W. D. Wagar, T.; D. The Tramp Index.

The officers kept a sharp watch last night and patrolled the town and entire suburbs in watch of the gang of tramps who arrived the other night. The vigilance of the officers caused many of them to skip on further east, and only about half a dozen of them were to be seen in town last night. Rumors and reports have come to the officials here of tramps counting ties on the railroad, near a hundred in force, and they have prepared themselves in advance for the influx.

From appearances there is going to be considerable contention for several of the county officers in this county.

One or two of the present office-holders in time past have stated that they did not care for a re-election, which will make the strife all the more lively.

This morning owing to the delay of trains, there was a string of delayed cars and locomotives reaching beyond Sierra street on the west to the turntable on the east. It consisted of freight cars, and while their contents rested easily, the locomotive men and train hands chewed the cud of contentment over their temporary vacation.

There is no season of the year that is better to visit Donner lake than the present and no better opportunity for a day outing will be given than the picnic occasion next Wednesday. Remember, however, there are accommodations for only a certain number and that many of the tickets have already been sold. The first to get tickets will be the lucky ones.

STILL CREEPING.

Virginia City Continues to Move Down Hill.

The Virginia Chronicle of the 17th inst. says: A resident of South B street pointed out this morning a wall on that thoroughfare that is slowly sliding in a southeasterly direction. The slide extends laterally in a southeasterly direction under Cole's drug store and other C street buildings and is traceable still further in that direction.

Between the Edgerton mansion and the Water office the walls of buildings show that they are moving in a southeasterly direction.

As there are no known underground workings below the localities mentioned, the gentleman referred to attributes the sliding of the earth to underground workings further south and the pressure is drawing in that direction to fill those vacuums.

A Powder Explosion.

On Friday of last week, at Elmore's grading camp, about five miles below Clover Valley, says the Pioche Record of the 12th instant, a quantity of giant powder was being carted to a portion of the work, when, from some cause it exploded. One man was leading the horse attached to the cart and another was walking immediately behind the vehicle. The explosion blew the cart in atoms and tore the hind-quarters off the horse, killing him instantly.

Of the men the one in front sustained a slight injury to one of his hands, while the one behind the cart escaped entirely unhurt—a fortunate accident for him.

Re-Opening a Thoroughfare.

In order to grant relief results utterly subversive to health, it is absolutely essential that the grand thoroughfare or avenue of the system, the bowels, should be re-opened as speedily as possible when they become obstructed. If they are not, the bile is misdirected into the blood; the liver becomes torpid; vice billions matter gets into the stomach, and produces indigestion, headaches, and other symptoms are produced, which is an elongation of the existing cause only leads to aggravation.

An expert proprietor of Hostetter's stomach Bitter, containing a most useful agent in overcoming obstruction of the bowels and promoting a regular habit of body. It is infinitely superior to the drastic cathartics frequently used for the purpose, since it does not irritate the system, but produces a healthy, pleasant effect, and does not impair the tone of the evacuator.

organs, which it invigorates instead of weakening. The stomach and liver, also, indeed the whole system, is strengthened and regulated by it.

RENO BOOMS.

Which Produce a Large Source Of Revenue To Their Owners.

The boom in the river is decreasing; the boom in driftwood is diminishing, and the booms of the wood gatherers are anchored to the Truckee's fertile shores. It was surprising the amount of floatwood that drifted down the stream with the spring flood. Whole sections of logs two feet thick were captured, and from Verdi to Vista there was a string of log booms that would reach a mile, each governed by a zealous-eyed owner. The amount of floatwood caught was astonishingly abundant. Numbers went into the business of selling their floatwood, and the river is lined with a string of manufacturing, the booms are likely to be a prominent feature of Humboldt's favorite stream, which he would have named after himself had he encountered it in his explorations ahead of the sluggish Humboldt river. The numerous booms in town make Reno the most booming town in the battle-born State.

Needs Attention.

The alley running from Virginia street through to Center, between Second and Third streets, is in a decidedly foul condition. Besides containing good material for a conflagration, it is not particularly conducive to the health of the denizens of that locality. During the hot weather the ordinance concerning back yards and alleys should be strictly adhered to.

A BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

A City Lady Who Required Proof Before Believing.

There recently appeared in the San Francisco Call, Chronicle, and Examiner, a proposition hitherto unheard of. It was an advertisement in which the Edwin W. Joy Company, in proof of the curative properties of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, offered to submit it to the terrible test of "no cure no pay." Many accepted, and their experiences are so convincing as to be almost beyond belief. Here is another, written under date January 4, 1890.

DEAR SIR: I accepted your offer to test the merits of your vegetable remedy in sick headaches, and called for a bottle and got it. I had been troubled for a long time, and had tried nearly everything, with little or no effect; but Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla acted almost like magic, and the first bottle relieved me from one of the worst cases of sick headache one ever had.

Mrs. N. B. PRICE, 16 Prospect Place, San Francisco.

We will from time to time publish others of these letters. It is doubtful if any remedy was ever before submitted to such a severe ordeal.

PRIMARY ELECTION

Of the People on Saturday, Aug. 16, 1890,

For the purpose of electing delegates to the said State Convention, the Primary Elections to be held on the said day, in accordance with the laws of the State and the instructions of the committee.

The following list will be required of each and every voter at the said Primary elections:

"I am a citizen of this State and will support the nominees of the Republican party."

The following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this committee endorse the National Republican platform for 1890, including the declaration that "the Republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money; and that it, 'contends all efforts to demonetize silver.'"

Resolved, That the persistent neglect of a necessary window to increase the volume of silver to the maximum of four millions of dollars per month, coupled with his attempt to influence Congressional legislation so as to perpetuate silver demonetization, is a shameful violation of the silver plank of the National Republican platform, and an attack on the rights and interests of the miners, farmers and workers of the land, and an act of party perdition that should call for his retirement from the committee of administration which is pledged to help and not hinder the demonetization of silver.

Resolved, That the Republican party is in favor of free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver; that it is in favor of the principle as a test of party faith and a test of party allegiance; that it will permit of no abandonment or modification of this doctrine; that it will welcome with open arms any man who will prove faithful to the principle of unlimited coinage of silver.

Resolved, That the Republican party is in favor of free and unlimited coinage of silver as the law of the United States of America, to join in electing delegates to a Republican State Convention.

E. D. BOYER, Chairman.
J. C. LORD, Secretary.

FREAKS TELL THE TRUTH.

The Census Enumerator in a Howery (N. Y.) Time Museum.

One of the census enumerators entered a dime museum on the Bowery the other day, says the New York Journal. He explained to the proprietor that he was taking the census, and that the dime museum owner gave him permission to question the "living curiosities."

He began with the Circassian beauty. "Where were you born?" "I was born in New York," said the Circassian beauty, "in the 'Ate ward.'"

"Where were your parents born?" "My father and mother were born in Germany."

"What is your name?" "Mary Ann Higgins," said the beautiful Circassian.

"Are you white, black, mulatto, quadroon, octoroon, Chinese, Japanese or Indian?"

"I'm green."

"Single, married, widowed or divorced?"

"Divorced and married again."

"What is your trade or occupation?" "I'm a Circassian beauty by trade."

"Are you able to speak English?" "Dat's de only language I speak."

The enumerator walked over to the haughty "Zulu Prince."

"Where were you born?" he asked. "In old Virginia, sah," said the Zulu Prince, smiling.

"Where were your parents born?" "Day was born in Norfolk, Virginia."

"Where do you live?" "In Thompson street, sah."

"Are you white, black, mulatto, quadroon, Chinese, Japanese or Indian?" "I dunno, I spees I's Zulu."

"What is your name?" "Pompey Linkum Fields."

"What is your profession or occupation?" "I'm a Zulu Prince."

"Are you able to speak English?" "I can understand English."

The "Austrian giant" said he was born in New Jersey. His parents were born in Vermont.

"Are you single, married or divorced?" "Well, I've been married four or five times in the museum to draw a crowd, but I believe the marriages were not regular."

The double-headed girl puzzled the census enumerator greatly. He didn't know whether to put her down as one person or two persons. She gave two sets of answers to most of the questions. One head said she was twenty-four, but the other head denied it and said she was only eighteen.

"Where were you born?" "In the Congo Republic," said the first head.

"In Ireland," said the second head. The Texas cowboy said he was born in Boston and had always lived there.

EQUINE RAT-KILLER.

A BROOKTON (Mass.) Horse Which Possesses a Peculiar Accomplishment.

Roscoe Franklin, of Brookton, Mass., owns a bay horse, known by the name of Shiloh, that is possessed of a peculiar accomplishment. Mr. Franklin's stable, a rather old building, is infested by rats that give the horses much trouble, stealing their food and making themselves pests generally. It began to be observed a short time since that in Shiloh's stall there was to be found every morning one or more of the rodents, dead, the crushed bodies of which indicated that they had died violent deaths, but what that death was remained a mystery until one of the stable men discovered that the big bay was nimblest thief executioner.

He was then watched at the work, and the strategy and cunning of the animal is said to be remarkable. He will stand over a rat-hole for any length of time without stirring, his ears alert and his eyes fixed on the hole. Then as the rat breaks cover abruptly and hurriedly, as they always do, Shiloh brings down the sharp hoof of his uplifted foot upon his little but harassing foe, crushing the life out of him, and if he fails to strike the wily creature will overtake him with outstretched neck, and seizing him in his powerful teeth throw him against the side of the stall, thus breaking his back.

It is said seldom that this curious rat-killer fails to kill his prey. The horse actually seems to enjoy the sport, for he will repeat the trick again and again, and if any one stands and watches him at it he will, without ceasing to be on the job, occasionally turn his intelligent eye on the spectator, as if to say: "I'll get him yet."

PEARLS BY THE WAY.

SILENCE is less injurious than a weak reply.

REPENTANCE is the last advantage which a man reaps for his fault.

SHALLOW men believe in luck; strong men believe in cause and effect.

FAME is but the breath of the people, and that often unwholesome.

You will never find time for any thing. If you want time, you must make it.

The simple-hearted and sincere do never more than half deceive themselves.

HONOR awakens courage. He who can implant courage in the human soul is the best physician.

It is life there is nothing more unexpected and surprising than the arrival and departure of pleasure.

MANLYNESS is not disposed to look narrowly into the conduct of great victors when their victory is on the right side.

NATURE has fashioned some for ambition and dominion, as it has formed others for obedience and submission.

The leopard follows his nature as the lamb does.

Rats will eat any thing, from shortbread to soap, but so cunning are they that unless needed is sprinkled on the trap after setting they smell the human hand and keep aloof. The barrel remedy is worst trying. Fill a barrel with chaff, leaving at the top some choice morsel to tempt the rat's appetite, and an inviting stick leaning against the side. Do this for three nights, and then on the fourth night fill the barrel two-thirds with water and one-third with chaff. The rats, thrown off their guard by previous immunity, will mount the ladder gayly and meet their fate in the treacherous ocean below. - N. Y. Journal.

IS MARRIAGE POPULAR?

The Question Answered by a Man Who Knows What He Is Talking About.

A suspicion seems to be gaining currency in some quarters that the old, old bank of love has failed, says the Burlington Free Press. Because here and there some private broker's establishment has gone under the people are beginning to get fidgety, forsooth, about the great international banking system of matrimony.

Nonsense!

And yet, let us see. Marriage is getting to be unpopular with the Mormons and bigamists. Certainly they are an unhappy lot, these fellows. We have never yet met a man who married on the strength of divorce, or who had two or three wives living in different parts of the country, who was really a cheerful and contented individual.

Marriage in moderation is a good thing, but too much of it—well, too much of it is certainly apt to make a man sneaking, misanthropic, round-shouldered and bald.

Marriage is also getting to be unpopular with those who have had too little of it. The bachelors and old maids don't think much of marriage—according to their own showing. Neither of them know any thing about it, of course, but that don't make any difference. It simply gives the ill-disposed imagination a big swing, and yet old bachelors and old maids think that they have a sort of oracular right to denounce the marriage relation—just as much right, perhaps, as the fox has to sit and look up at grapes sored by distance.

Marriage is also getting to be unpopular with the men who collect statistics of crime. It takes many a job out of their hands, and gives them more time than they wish to devote to the blank columns and speculate on the degeneracy of primitive institutions.

Finally, marriage is getting to be unpopular with the anarchist, the under-the-table, the black-leg, the thug, the cynic, the hermit and the man who would like to see the world rolling swiftly down to destruction like a big football. Yes, marriage certainly is an unpopular institution with some persons, but it is an institution that the world is going to try to put up with for a little while longer at least.

THIRTY YEARS SINCE.

Mrs. Merrifield's Adherence to the Vow.

The death of Mrs. Susan E. Merrifield, a resident of Reno, Nevada, is a case of peculiar interest in one of the most peculiar cases ever known of a vow of silence made and kept thirty years, says an American (Ga.) dispatch to the Philadelphia Times. In 1860 Mrs. Merrifield, who, it is said, was a little woman of a peculiarly bright and cheery disposition, was telling her husband of some occurrence, when he requested her in a very surly manner to be silent, adding that the sound of her voice was hateful to him.

It seems that Mr. Merrifield, while a good husband in every other way, was in the habit of venting his displeasure when aroused by outside matters by ill-humor with his wife, whose good nature usually passed his testiness by, but on this occasion she repined that as it was hateful to him he should never hear her voice again. And he never did, nor did any other person ever hear it, for in spite of her husband's remorse and remonstrances from friends and relatives, Mrs. Merrifield kept her vow, though she continued to act the part of a good wife and mother, fulfilling every duty scrupulously. She even bore three children to her husband after this vow was taken.

When communication was absolutely necessary with those about her she used a slate, but reduced a language of signs to such perfection in governing her household and children that it was but seldom that this slate was resorted to.

It was thought that when her husband died she would resume the use of her speech, but while she sat by his dying bed, devoted and loving to the last, in answer to his supplications that she speak but a word to him, wrote on the slate with all the evidences of grief: "I can not, I can not! God forgive and help me. I can not!" But whether it was that she found it impossible to break her will and her vow, or that long disuse had affected her organs so that she really could not use them, could not be ascertained, but her family inclined to the latter belief, for it is said that while on her own death-bed she made distinct and ineffectual efforts to speak to her children, dying with the seal of silence unremoved from her lips.

Auburn Hair Has the Gilt.

A St. Louis hair-dresser says every body now is calling for auburn hair. It is the color above all others in favor in the world of fashion. The shade is very becoming, especially to women with pretty shades of complexion, olive or fair, as the case may be. The auburn has the warm, bright glow of the sun, without the unbecoming tendency of golden hair to exaggerate features and make them look so much larger. Auburn hair is now in greater demand than blonde hair ever was, and is gaining in favor daily. Of course, Patti is the originator of the present style.

Possibilities of Marriage.

A Kentucky couple have escaped the penalty of murder by getting married. The two drowned a child from a boat and were the only witnesses. The woman confessed throwing the little one into the water, but claimed that the man made her do it. The Kentucky law provides that a wife can not testify against her husband, or a husband against his wife, so the law is unique at any stage, but this marriage, which drops the shade of the gallows in two lives, is about the queerest phase of its possibilities yet developed.

Well-diggers at Little Prairie, Wis., find indications of a buried forest. The cedar or pine found at a depth of thirty-five feet appeared to be branches of a tree; as forty feet the growth was larger, as if near the trunk; at fifty-five feet the growth was still larger, and the next ten feet through blue clay, exceedingly hard. The impression prevails that a swamp will be struck at a lower depth, as has been the case in previous instances where the wells were abandoned. Good water in that locality is rare, though the land lies high and the surface soil is light. The matter is attracting much attention.

We Are Giving Away.

This book contains 480 pages; is eight and one-half inches long, six inches wide and two inches thick. It is printed on extra heavy paper and is handsomely bound with embossed cover and gilt-lettered back.

It is different from all other works ever published. First—It teaches those who have it how to tell what the matter is when a person gets sick.

All similar books tell what to do if you know what the disease is. This book tells disease is. This book tells HOW TO DETECT THE DISEASE, and then what to do for it.

No other Book Published does this.

Second—When a person is really attacked by a dangerous disease, it enables you to know the fact, and in such cases its advice is: "Send for a competent physician at once." But in all ordinary cases, such as can be easily cured, it gives full directions for treatment.

Third—It is not confined to the practice used by any one class of physicians; but it gives, separately, and for each disease, the methods used by each of the different schools of medicine, and in ALL CASES the PRESCRIPTIONS ARE MADE BY THE MOST EMINENT MEN in their respective modes of practice. This makes the work specially suited to the needs of every family, no matter what medical school they prefer.

I have examined the advance sheets of "Our Family Physician," and I give a most favorable opinion of its value as a guide in the treatment of disease, and it deserves wide circulation.

J. P. COOK, M.D., Professor in Burnett Medical College, Chicago.

After examining the publication "Our Family Physician," I can fully endorse the opinions expressed of its merits by the above gentlemen. R. A. GUNN, M.D., Professor of the Burnett Medical College.

The book contains a valuable chapter of symptoms, which will aid wonderfully in diagnosing diseases, and the proper remedy is given for all diseases, from the common cold, to the most serious and fatal diseases.

We have a number of the books on hand, and we invite inspection. There are three chapters in the "Family Physician," which are worthy of special mention, namely, those on "Diseases of Women," "Diseases of Infants," and "Care of the Sick."

The first of these is a model of its kind. It is a chapter in a substantial book, and it is a book that contains no disagreeable pictures for children to inspect, and no over-enthusiastic and exaggerated claims. It is the most practical, sensible and straight-forward treatise upon this delicate subject that has ever been published.

This chapter alone is worth many times the cost of the book to every mother; even if it is to be purchased at its regular price. The other chapters referred to are equally well written and valuable. See "Our Plan" on 4th page.
